23. Contribution of IQAC

- ❖ Incremental changes during the last two years

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) plays a crucial role in enhancing the quality of education and institutional performance. Over the last two years, the IQAC has contributed to several incremental changes aimed at continuous improvement. Some of the key contributions include:

1. Academic Enhancements

- Implementation of innovative teaching-learning methods, including ICT-enabled classrooms and blended learning approaches.
- Introduction of skill-based certificate courses to enhance student employability.
- Strengthening of mentorship programs to support student progression and career guidance.

2. Quality Assurance and Accreditation

- Regular submission of AQAR reports and documentation for NAAC accreditation.
- Conducting internal and external academic audits for continuous assessment and improvement.
- Organizing workshops and seminars on quality enhancement and best practices in higher education.

3. Student-Centric Initiatives

- Establishment of student support cells, including grievance redressal, career counselling, and anti-ragging committees.
- Conducting bridge courses and remedial classes for slow learners.
- Promoting student participation in research, projects, and extension activities.

4. Faculty Development and Research

- Encouraging faculty to undertake research projects and publish in reputed journals.

- Organizing Faculty Development Programs (FDPs) on pedagogy, research methodologies, and ICT tools.
- Facilitating participation in national and international conferences and workshops.

5. Administrative and Infrastructural Improvements

- Digitalization of administrative processes for efficient governance.
- Upgrading library resources with e-books, journals, and digital learning platforms.
- Implementation of green initiatives such as paperless communication, rainwater harvesting, and solar energy utilization.

6. Community Engagement and Extension Activities

- Strengthening NSS activities for social service and community development.
- Conducting awareness programs on environmental sustainability, health, and social issues.
- Collaborating with NGOs like hartfullness, satyasai institutions and industries for student internships and placement drives.

7. Continuous Internal Assessment (CIA)

The IQAC at KRKGDC, Addanki, has introduced several examination reforms to enhance transparency and efficiency in the evaluation process. Continuous Internal Assessment (CIA) has been strengthened with diversified evaluation methods, including quizzes, presentations, and assignments. The college has implemented question paper distribution and record-keeping to streamline examination management. Strict measures to prevent malpractice have been enforced. Additionally, a structured grievance redressal mechanism has been introduced to address student concerns regarding evaluation and reevaluation.

These incremental changes have significantly contributed to the institution's overall academic excellence, student development, and quality enhancement over the past two years.
